Oxonian

Annie Belle Smith 1957-58

Foreword

Throughout the year from our first meeting to the last we have worked hard to produce an annual of which you, as well as we on the staff, will long be proud. The magazine campaign surpassed the record high of the past years, and to all who have helped in any way, we say a heartfelt "thank you."

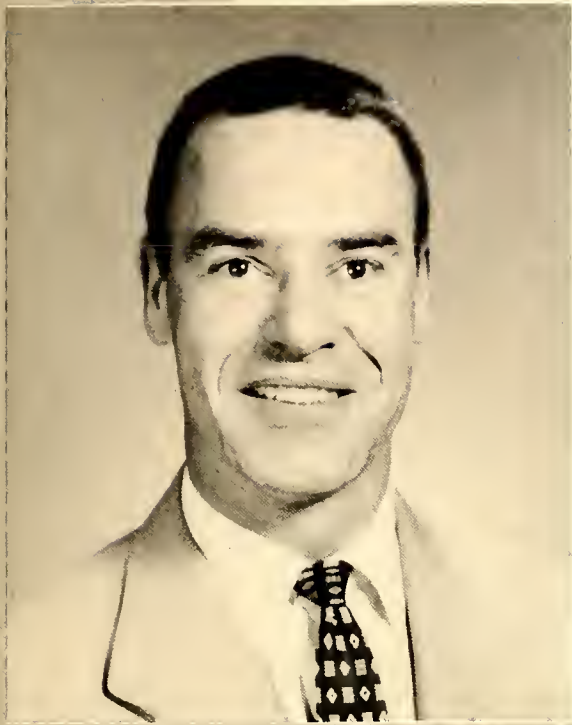

The staff joins with me in expressing the sincere hope that the 1958 OXONIAN will not only afford you a pleasant joy, but will be a constant and ever recurring reminder of your happy years at Oxford High School.

Table of Contents

Everyone who is a part of Oxford High School will find as he examines the 1958 edition of the Oxonian many justifications for increased feelings of loyalty and pride.

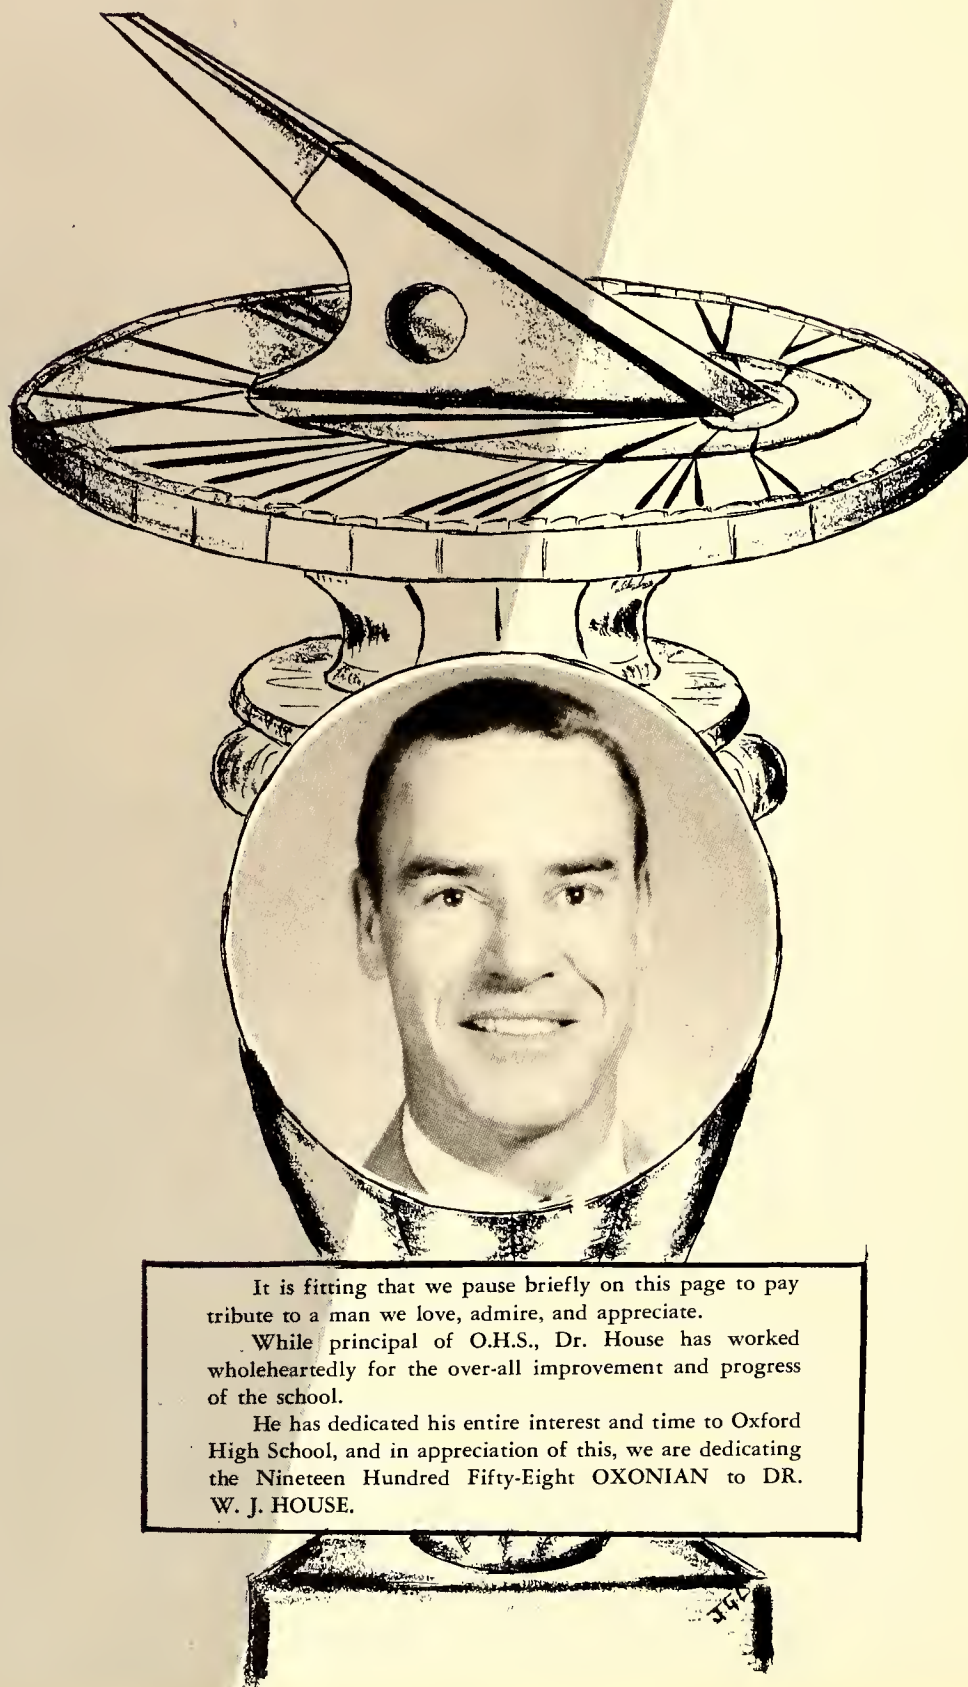

There is cause to be proud of the Oxonian staff for its excellent work. Moreover, the record of activities and accomplishments contained in this yearbook is a constant reminder of what can be achieved when all work together.

The administration commends the editors, the staff, and advisors for a job well done.

Dedication

It is fitting that we pause briefly on this page to pay tribute to a man we love, admire, and appreciate.

While principal of O.H.S., Dr. House has worked wholeheartedly for the over-all improvement and progress of the school.

He has dedicated his entire interest and time to Oxford High School, and in appreciation of this, we are dedicating the Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Eight OXONIAN to DR. W. J. HOUSE.

Future Homemakers of America

The main purposes of the Future Homemakers of America are to promote an appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of home-making and to further interest in home economics. The members are made aware of the fields open for a home economist and encouraged to obtain homemakers degrees.

Fostering the development of creative leadership in home and community life, and providing wholesome individual and group recreation are among the club's activities. Two highlights of the year are the F.H.A.-F.F.A. Banquet, and the summer camp at White Lake.

The members are kept up to date on the national, state, and district F.H.A. activities by attending rallies of each kind.
